

MISSION STATEMENT

The Women's Automotive Association International aims to further education and knowledge of automotive issues.

The Association is the automotive industry's premier professional organization, established in 1995, to:

- Recognize the achievements of women in the industry;
- Provide educational e-news to automotive career-focused individuals;
- Build relationships through networking and other interactive forms; and
- Encourage growth through mentoring, educational endeavors, and scholarships.

The focus of the Association is on the development and retention of women leaders and the education and support of all persons, without prejudice, who have an interest in the automotive industry.

WE'RE COMMITTED TO YOUR SUCCESS!

SHINAE CHUN

On May 11, 2001, Shinae Chun was confirmed by the Senate as the 15th Director of the Women's Bureau. Under the direction of Secretary of Labor Elaine L. Chao,

Ms. Chun is the highest ranking Korean American in the Bush administration, and heads the only Federal agency charged with advocating on behalf of women in the workforce. The Women's Bureau was created by Congress in 1920 with a mandate to "promote the welfare of wage-earning women."

Prior to joining the Labor Department, Ms. Chun served as the Managing Director of the ITR Corporation of Chicago, Illinois. From 1991 to 1999, Ms. Chun was the Director of the Illinois Department of Labor, responsible for managing operations of the Department. She made Illinois history two years earlier when she accepted the position of Director of the Illinois Department of Financial Institutions, becoming the first ever Asian American cabinet member.

In 1982, Ms. Chun was one of the founding members of the Asian American Advisory Council to Governor James R. Thompson. Later in 1984, she was appointed as Special Assistant to the Governor on Asian American Affairs, the first such position in the country.

Prior to her involvement in state government, she was project director of the Title IX Multiethnic Training, Assistance and Dissemination Project (METAD), a teacher in-service training program developed to heighten sensitivity of public school teachers to cultural diversity in the classroom.

Her recognition awards include "Outstanding Alumni Award" from Ewha Women's University in Seoul, "Outstanding Statesman Award" from Chicago Chinatown Chamber of Commerce, and Midwest Women's Center "A Tribute to Chicago Women Award." From 1987-1991, she served as a board member for United Way. She is also author of From the Mountains of Masan to the Land of Lincoln (1996), and Korean Culture - A Passage Through Hermit Kingdom (1980).

Ms. Chun received her undergraduate degree at Ewha Women's University in Seoul, Korea, and her Master's degree in Education and Social Policy at Northwestern University. In 1992, she also received a fellowship to the Harvard University, John F. Kennedy School of Government, Program for Senior Executives in State and Local Government. Ms. Chun and her husband, Dr. Kyong Chul Chun, have two sons.
